COLLEGE PREP IN MIDDLE SCHOOL???

➤ You may be wondering:

“Is middle school too early to start preparing for high school and beyond???”

CALIFORNIA COLLEGE ADMISSIONS (2023)

- ✘ UC enrollment data released Jan. 19 found 295,573 students enrolled for fall 2023, including both graduate and undergraduate students. The number of undergraduates rose to a record-breaking 233,272 students.
- ✘ California undergraduates made up the largest group, accounting for 194,571 students, or 83.4 percent. Of those, 42,058 were first-year students, a 5 percent increase over fall 2022.
- ✘ Fall 2023 enrollment also included large numbers of California Community College (CCC) transfer students. In fact, the university enrolls more community college students than any university of its caliber in the nation, with 27 percent of undergrads starting their UC journey at a community college.
- ✘ UC San Diego said it expects 42,300 students to show up when the fall quarter begins on Sept. 25. That would represent a roughly 300-student increase in enrollment.
- ✘ San Diego State University says it began the fall semester with 37,087 students, a figure that is nearly 1,400 higher than it was a year earlier.
- ✘ Cal State San Marcos enrolled 16,008 students, an increase of 334 over the previous year.
